

A WAITING GAME

Being Played By the Operators in the Anthracite Region.

Mysterious Tragedy Excites Italians at Old Forge Today.

Threaten to Blow Up Colliery Before Midnight—Sheriff and Posse on the Way—Coal Riot at Tamaqua, Pa. Last Night—Warrants Issued.

New York, July.—George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, and the several presidents of the coal carrying companies are in conference here today over the strike situation in the anthracite regions. While no definite statement is expected as the result of the conference, it is believed that the operators are discussing plans with the view of starting up several of the collieries. President Fowler and Oliphant said this morning that the conditions in the strike regions are unchanged and that the operators are simply playing a waiting game.

Old Forge, Pa., July 1.—A mysterious tragedy occurred at the William A. Colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company during last night. This morning the body of an Italian was found just outside the mine barracks. One side of the fellows had been blown off. Italians here say the man had been employed in the colliery as a laborer for a few weeks prior to the strike. The best theory is that the man was attempting to enter the colliery yard last night and was shot down by one of the company guards. The Italian colony is up in arms today. Scores of angry men swarm about the mine making threats of vengeance. A call has been sent for Sheriff Shadt, of Lackawanna county, and Coroner Saltry. The deputies have possession of the Italian's body. The strikers are determined to secure the remains but have resorted to no serious violence. Some of them have threatened to blow up the colliery before midnight. The arrival of the sheriff is anxiously awaited.

Hazleton, Pa., July 1.—Exciting scenes are being enacted on the country roads about Drifton today. Striking miners are marching headed by a pipe and drum corps, and every effort is being made to prevent men from entering the Drifton colliery of Cox Brothers & Co. Deputies in the employ of the company are active and trouble is feared.

Tamaqua, Pa., July 1.—In a coal riot near here last night 300 strikers and non-union men engaged. Bert Snyder, assistant superintendent of the Lehigh Coal company tried to rescue a non-union man. He was severely beaten and forced to his knees to beg for mercy. Warrants are out for the arrest of the disturbers.

IN HEBRON

Two Members of the Gang Captured. Robbery Committed at Thurston Sunday Night.

Thurston, O., July 1.—Robbers broke into the general store here on Sunday night and carried off a large quantity of goods, consisting of shoes, shirts, rings, watch chains etc. The robbery was not discovered until Monday morning when it was immediately reported to Marshal J. E. Jamp, who at once took the trail, and succeeded with the help of his assistants, in capturing one of them under an old house, half way between Hebron and Kirkersville. The other two members of the gang were captured in Hebron. They were taken to Lancaster last night and lodged in jail. There is a clear case against them and they will, in all probability, all land in the penitentiary.

HAHN'S CASE

Only the Mayor Can Order Hahn to be Turned Over Says Chief Weil of Mansfield.

Mansfield, O., July 1.—The case of Wm. M. Hahn, charged with grand larceny on the affidavit of County Prosecutor W. H. Bowers, was called in the Police Court Monday. Hearing was immediately postponed by agreement until 9 o'clock next Monday morning, on account of the absence of Prosecutor Bowers from the city.

Hahn was present in company with Chief of Police Weil, to whose custody he was committed for another week.

On receipt of the news last night from Columbus that Governor Nash had dismissed the motion of the defense Chief Weil was asked as to his future course regarding Mr. Hahn. He reiterated his former statement that he would turn Mr. Hahn over to no one except on order of Mayor Robinson or in response to habeas corpus proceedings.

CONDENSED

Telegrams to the Advocate From All Quarters, Boiled Down For Hurried Readers.

Berlin, July 1.—In the sailing race from Kiel to Deckenforde today the Kaiser's American built yacht Meteor won first prize in splendid fashion.

Cincinnati, July 1.—Commander R. M. G. Brown of the U. S. navy, is dying at his home in Morgantown, W. Va. Commander Brown was the man who saved the U. S. flagship Trenton and six hundred lives in the harbor of Apia, Samoa, by forming a human sail. A great hurricane that threatened to destroy every vessel in the harbor, put the Trenton in such a plight that the engines were all under water. Commander Brown ordered the men aloft, and with hands clasped they stood in the rigging and the wind carried the ship three miles to open sea and safety.

DUG OUT

NOTORIOUS PRISONERS MADE THEIR ESCAPE.

Men Removed Block of Stone from the Prison Roof and Dug Through a Brick Wall.

Washington, Ind., July 1.—Early this morning four prisoners escaped from the county jail here by removing a block of stone from the roof and digging through the brick wall. The escape was not discovered until 7:30 o'clock this morning. Jos. Herbert, whose trial for murdering Louis Cunningham was commenced yesterday afternoon was one of them. Wm. E. Pohl, who criminally assaulted Irma Pohl, aged 4, at Vincennes, and whom a militia company and 200 deputy sheriffs saved from a mob, also escaped. Wm. Kelly serving a 200 days sentence for wife desertion and Edw. Lyons, who was put in jail at midnight, were the others. All surrounding towns have been notified but so far none of the men have been located.

Even the shoemaker objects to a good many ways.

GAINS

In Strength And Shows All Signs Of Recovery.

MORE HOPEFUL BULLETINS ARE POSTED TODAY.

LONDON MEDICAL AUTHORITIES.

However Are Not Unanimously Satisfied With King Edward's Condition—Give Their Reasons.

London, July 1.—For the first time since the operation was performed by King Edward, just a week ago today, his physicians this morning issued a bulletin regarding his majesty's condition, which was unqualifiedly satisfactory. The announcement which would seem to indicate that the king is now on the high road to convalescence was posted at Buckingham palace at 10 o'clock this morning and read as follows:

"The king passed an excellent night of natural sleep. He has gained strength and has made substantial improvement in all respects."

TREVES, LAKING, BARLOW

Added to the thoroughly hopeful tone of the official bulletin, the appearance of Queen Alexandra at the review of Colonial Troops today showed conclusively that the brightest hopes of the king's recovery are now entertained in all official quarters.

London medical authorities are by no means unanimously satisfied with the king's condition. They say that His Majesty's surgeons who first thought he would die affected by their joyful reflection depend too much on the king's marvelous vitality. The best semi-official information today is that while the bulletins accurately reflect the state of the king's wound, His Majesty's general health still causes much uneasiness and the constitutional condition which caused the original attack are not greatly improved.

London, July 1.—The feeling of relief as a result of a favorable report of the condition of the king vented itself last night by the touching of the 3,000 bonfires throughout the United Kingdom which were originally prepared to celebrate coronation night.

There was quite a celebration at Spithead when the nearest approach to a review of the great fleet there was seen in the trip of several transports loaded with volunteers and colonial troops and a number of distinguished persons who inspected the empire's "first line of defense."

SENTENCE

Of Police Captain King Is Three and a Half Years in Stillwater Prison.

Other Cases.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 1.—Police Captain Norman King, the second of Minneapolis police officers convicted of corruption was sentenced this morning to three and a half years in Stillwater prison. Detective Norbeck, who fled during the trial and was recaptured, has now decided to plead guilty. The trial of Police Chief Frederick Amos, brother of the Mayor, is next on the list.

BODY REMOVED

Jesse James' Features Were Recognizable By Friends After Twenty Years in the Ground.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 1.—Without religious services of any kind the remains of Jesse James were removed from the Samuels farm and reinterred in the South Park cemetery at Kearney. The body was found in the earth, the metallic casket having gone to pieces. The skin was shrunken over the face, but the features were recognizable. A one-side of the head could be seen the fatal wound inflicted by Bob Ford, his treacherous companion, 20 years ago last April. James' aged mother, his brother, Frank, and his son, Lieut. Jesse James, Jr., were present.

Courting by phone necessitates a good many rings.

BRICE'S SON.

Leaves New York Society to Hunt for Gold in the Thunder Mountain District of Idaho.

Lima, O., July 1.—Mally Brice, the son of the late Calvin Brice, of the city, has forsaken the festivities of New York society to search for a fortune in the Thunder mountain district of Idaho.

Young Brice's income of a comparatively small part of his late father's $5,000,000 estate, is administered by trustees and is said to have been lost in a labyrinth of social expenses. The young man is determined to place himself on an independent financial footing and those who know that he has inherited the determination and business qualifications of the father say that the son will succeed.

Young Brice served as captain in the commissary department during the Spanish-American war. He is a friend of Richard Croker and through Tammany's influences was elected as councilman from New York's Fourth district.

LOCAL OPTION

Ohio Liquor Dealers to Attack Beal Law in Court, Fearing Final Prohibition.

Columbus, O., July 1.—The liquor dealers and brewers' associations of the state have retained former Attorney General Frank S. Monnett, as counsel to file a suit to test the constitutionality of the Beal local option bill. Since the law became operative, six weeks ago, more than 65 towns have gone dry, and the liquor interests of the state are filled with consternation. The suit was decided upon as the most effective means of stemming the tide of prohibition, which threatens to eventually engulf half the State, especially in view of the recent decision of the Supreme Court, annulling all special legislation. Monnett contends that the law is special legislation, because it does not operate uniformly throughout the state, and that it is therefore in contravention of the constitution.

SHORTAGE

Of Mrs. Matthews at Dayton Said to be Six Thousand—A Sensation in the Gem City.

Dayton, O., July 1.—The sensation created in social circles when the fact of the defection of Mrs. Viola Matthews, the chairman of the biola committee of the Young Woman's league, became known, was a decided one. The standing of the woman and the prominence of the club made the matter a subject of common conversation. It is now said that the shortage will reach over $6,000. Mrs. Matthews comes from one of the best families of the city, and she at present has a daughter at Wellesley college. It is understood that no legal action of an incriminating nature will be brought against the woman, but an effort will be made to recover $3,000 of the fund from her bondsmen. The loss of the money is a blow to the league, which recently purchased a $40,000 property in the heart of the city and which was making a worthy effort to pay for it.

DIED GAME

COLORED MAN LAUGHED WHEN NOOSE WAS ADJUSTED.

Ess. Broadway, Who Hacked a Colored Woman to Pieces With Razor Pays Penalty.

Pradesburg, Ky. July 1.—E. Broadway, colored was hanged here yesterday for the murder of Mary McGee, colored, whom he hacked to pieces with a razor in a jealous fury three months ago. He narrowly escaped lynching. He died game and laughed when the noose was adjusted.

CZAR'S DIVINE RIGHT.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—The czar has issued a decree that all priests in Russia must denounce the revolutionary movement and preach the doctrine of the divine right of the czar from their pulpits every Sunday.

TEXAS SENATOR

Demanded Retraction From Senator Beveridge of Indiana

Then Bailey in His Rage Grasped Senator By The Throat.

The Hoosier Did Not Resent the Assault—Mr. Spooner Was To the Front and Mr. Layton Helped to Part the Men—Mr. Bailey Talks.

Washington, July 1.—Another personal encounter between U. S. senators occurred in the Senate chamber yesterday afternoon. Senator Bailey of Texas grabbed Senator Beveridge of Indiana by the throat with both hands and did his utmost to throttle him.

Bailey, as he leaped on Beveridge, said:

"— you, I'll kill you!"

Had it not been for the timely interference of Bernard Layton, assistant sergeant at arms, the man who separated Tillman and McLaurin, and Senator Spooner he would probably have done the Indiana Senator great bodily injury.

The affair is only less disgraceful than that in which the South Carolina Senators indulged in that it did not occur while the Senate was in session. It was a deliberate assault, made after Bailey had thrice called upon Beveridge to withdraw language which deeply offended the Texan. It occurred just after the Senate had finished an executive session, but before the doors, which are kept closed 10 minutes after adjournment, had been opened.

Bailey and Beveridge are known as the two "kids" of the Senate. They have been clashing for some time. The encounter was but the climax. They became involved in a bitter personal debate and Bailey took exceptions to a statement made by Beveridge which Bailey conceived reflected upon his honor. The trouble arose over a resolution introduced by Bailey calling upon the Secretary of State for all papers bearing on the charges made several months ago against Powell Clayton, United States Minister to Mexico. Bailey in speaking on his resolution said that Solicitor Penfield of the State Department had refused to let him see certain papers in the case, which, as a Senator, he was entitled to see. He made a long harangue, filled with abuse of Mr. Penfield. As Solicitor Penfield is an Indiana man, Beveridge and Senator Fairbanks of that state both came to his defense.

Beveridge denounced the attack by not such as a Senator or any one else. Bailey as "wholly unwarranted," and should make on a government official when that official was not present to protect himself. Bailey's face was white with rage when he arose to answer Beveridge. He directed his venom in personal insults against Beveridge, and eventually demanded that Beveridge withdraw his remarks. "I will not stand such insinuations from anyone, neither in this chamber nor outside," he said.

"I must say," Bailey continued, glaring at Beveridge, "that I can flatter the intelligence of every member of this body except that of the gentleman from Indiana."

"I am glad to know," retorted Mr. Beveridge, "that you are beyond your depth. But that is no answer to my argument."

"No, I know it is not," was Bailey's sarcastic rejoinder. "His argument was too puny to demand an answer. This is something about which the gentleman from Indiana knows nothing, but which as usual, he must talk about."

The question of veracity virtually was raised between the two senators. Solicitor Penfield was communicated with by telephone by Senator Fairbanks and he, too, virtually said that Bailey had not stated the truth. Penfield insisted that the Senator from Texas had had free access to all the papers in the Clayton case. Bailey's temper was at white heat. He went over his charges against Penfield again, reiterating what he had said before.

"What I have just said," he continued "is not an apology for anything I have yet said or done, but in explanation of what I may do later."

Senator Spooner tried to pacify Bailey, but while Bailey treated Senators Spooner and Fairbanks with the greatest consideration, he intimated clearly that he did not consider Beveridge on the same plane with them. To dispose of the argument, Bailey's resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations with instructions to investigate the charges made against Solicitor Penfield in his alleged treatment of Bailey. The Senate then went into executive session.

Senator Beveridge went around among the Republican Senators, discussing the incident and that seemed to arouse Bailey's anger. He got up, walked out into the cloakroom and awaited Senator Beveridge there.

When he saw that Beveridge had gone back to his seat again, Bailey re-entered the chamber and going over to Beveridge, sat down on the chair next to his. "I have asked you to withdraw the remarks you made, but you have not done so," he said. "I ask you now again to withdraw them."

"Why," exclaimed Beveridge, "I said nothing that you should construe as being personally offensive. I did not intend to be offensive in that sense at least."

"I say your remarks were offensive," Bailey wished you to withdraw them," Bailey retorted. Senator Beveridge started to reply, when Bailey cut him short with: "I have asked you to withdraw what you said. Now, I tell you that you must, and if you don't, I will not say what I may do next."

Hardly were these words out of his mouth when Bailey jumped at Beveridge, grabbing him by the throat with both hands. He shook Beveridge as he held him, and there was consternation in the Senate chamber. Bailey is a heavier man than Beveridge by 50 pounds, and Beveridge had no chance to resist him. Layton rushed between Bailey and Beveridge and broke Bailey's hold on Beveridge's throat. Senator Spooner also rushed up and took hold of Bailey's arm and led him away. An attempt was made to hush this latest Senate scandal after the Senators left the chamber. Beveridge went to his hotel, dressed and went out to the theatre, thus avoiding the correspondents who thronged to his hotel as soon as they heard of the fracas. Bailey went to the office of one of the Texas newspapers, where his friends gathered to discuss the encounter.

"I was mad," Bailey said frankly. "I am not in the habit of having my veracity questioned, and I lost my head. When I went over to Beveridge's seat, he 'ripped' me by trying to palaver when I demanded that he withdraw his remarks. I grabbed him by the throat all right, but we were separated at once."

"While, of course, I regret the necessity for the occurrence, I do not regret the occurrence itself, because under my view of the matter no other course was open to me. When the offensive statement was first made, I very politely asked that it should be withdrawn. Instead of withdrawing it, the reply was made that if I would withdraw what I had said about others, the offensive statement about me would be withdrawn. This proposition in itself admitted the offensive character of the statement and the subsequent disclaimer of an intention to

BLIND HORSE

Didn't Lose Its Footing But the Other
One Fell—Trains Delayed—Strongous Driving.

Coshocton, July 1—Bill Scott, a farmer, came to Coshocton, got drunk and was arrested twice. Released in the evening he drove his team on the Walhonding railroad tracks and forced them to the Tuscarawas river bridge. They kept the ties for 40 feet, when one went through. The other, a blind horse, did not lose its footing. The outfit was taken off the bridge after two hours' hard work. Trains were delayed more than an hour. Scott was uninjured and went to sleep in the wagon.

MACBRIDE.

D. D. BeVard of Crestline, visited relatives here part of last week.

Allen Carpenter of Croton, spent Friday with S. A. Grandstaff.

On Tuesday, June 24, Mr. Truman Grandstaff was pleasantly surprised by 64 of his immediate relatives coming with well filled baskets to remind him of his fifty-sixth birthday anniversary. The day was spent in social chat and feasting and all present left a day well spent. May we all meet on many such pleasant occasions.

Mrs. I. N. Payne visited her son, H. D. Payne, and family, of Johnstown over Sunday.

Owing to the recent copious showers there was considerable hay damaged.

Mr. John Whittier's and Mr. B. W. Baker's houses are being rapidly brought to completion.

"WHAT SHALL WE EAT?"

Every day the same old question "What shall we eat for breakfast, luncheon, for dinner?" assails with monotonous regularity the patient housewife who seeks to provide good living for the family in agreeable variety at a moderate cost. There is a daily department in The Chicago Record-Herald, which is intended to answer this question satisfactorily every day in the year. It is entitled "Meals for a Day," and provides menus for the three meals every day, with the necessary recipes. These menus and recipes are carefully selected by The Record-Herald's household editor, and cash prizes are awarded to the best that are received. Housewives everywhere are invited to participate in the competition. For full particulars see the "Meals for a Day" department in The Chicago Record-Herald.

Seventh. Will be a wheelbarrow race, 75 yards; winner will be given a prize of $1.

In addition to the above, two games of ball will also be played at the East Newark ball park, in the afternoon between the Southerners of Columbus, and the Newark. First game to be called at 1:30 o'clock. Second game 15 minutes after first is finished. One admission fee only will be charged for both games. The Southerners is one of the strongest amateur clubs in the state.

Promptly at 7 o'clock we will assemble on the lawn near the corner of Cedar and Main streets, where addresses will be made by Rev. W. M. Acton, Captain W. A. Irwin and Chas. Montgomery, after which we will show the most beautiful display of fireworks ever seen by the people of Newark, something entirely new.

Come one, come all, come everybody and we will show you that the Brooklyn of Newark has not forgotten the day we celebrate.

GAS FIELD

Northern Limit of Territory Thought to be in Center of Miller Township, Knox County.

(Utica Herald.)

The well on the Miller farm near Brandon came in last week as was expected, but shows only about one million capacity, and eight feet of sand. It is owned by the Ohio Fuel Supply, or Mt. Vernon company. One well was drilled in on the same farm early in March and was reported to be good or nearly two millions. As the Bangs well was a failure and the second Miller well a couple of miles this side of so small, there seems to be reason to believe the north margin of the profitable field runs near the center of Miller township. Yet the smallness of the Hall well compared with the Pierson and Fry wells, which are near it, indicates that the field is spotted even in its best section.

Kinsey Hall Dead.

Mt. Vernon, O., July 1—Mr. Kinsey Hall, aged 73, an inmate of the county infirmary, died Monday after a few hours' illness. Hall had been a sufferer from heart trouble and other chronic diseases, but was not confined to his bed. When fully dressed he weighed only 50 pounds. Mrs. Scoles of Martinsburg and Clement Scoles of Mt. Vernon are a sister and nephew of the deceased. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow and interment made in the Martinsburg cemetery.

Saved From An Awful Fate.

"Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. FINE TEAM

Sold by Mr. Vandenberg for $700—
Sired by Romancer, Mr. John Tucker's Horse.

Zanesville, O., July 1.—This morning's Times-Recorder says: Monday afternoon Attorney Clarence S. Vandenberg sold his fine team of bay mares to Henry Y. Haws, president of the First National Bank of Johnstown, Pa., the purchase price being $700. This team was sired by Romancer, one of the best horses ever owned in this section of Ohio, now the property of John Tucker of Newark. Mr. Haws is an enthusiast on fast horses and at one time owned the well known Joe Patchen. He came from Johnstown to Zanesville to inspect Mr. Vandenberg's team and spent Monday afternoon trying them before he closed the purchase. These mares are one of the prettiest and best matched teams that has left Zanesville for several years and will be used by Mr. Haws as a road team and for family purposes.

Interest In Cricket.

Cricket lovers throughout the country will have more of the game this summer than they can well follow. From the present outlook England's national sport will have a greater following in and around New York than was ever thought possible heretofore. It is becoming the proper thing to take it up just as it adopted golf.

The championship of the Metropolitan District Cricket League will be played out between seven teams. In the New York Cricket association seven teams will play for the championship, and in the Prospect Park (Brooklyn) Cricket association five teams have entered.

There will be several intercity and interassociation matches during the summer and at least one game between the Australian team now in England and picked metropolitan cricketers.

Hammer Thrower Tell a Professional. Charles Pell of Drake university, the winner of the hammer throw at the recent western intercollegiate meet and admittedly the greatest all around athlete in Iowa, has been declared a professional. The fourteen points won by him at the state meet this year have been thrown out. The charge against Pell was based on his participation in an "open" race, although there was no stake and the only entrants were amateurs.

CAN'T KEEP IT UP.

Can't Deceive Newark People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptically when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place, but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. N. W. Jarvis, No. 105 North Fifth street, says: "When I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store I had been sick for some time. In fact I could not do anything. I felt so poorly. I had a severe pain in my back and was terribly weak. I had been taking treatment first one and then another, but I felt no better. My attention was drawn to a reading notice in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills. Bad backs like mine had been cured, could mine be also? I decided to try them. They did for me what other medicines failed to do. They gently aided the kidneys and the pain in the back over these organs left me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE A. O. H.

Miss Henry Hammond Sang and V. Rev. B. M. O'Boylan Delivered a Good Address at Columbus.

Columbus, O., July 1—Thirty-six candidates received the degrees of the A. O. H. at Columbus Sunday. In the evening a big banquet took place at the Columbus Auditorium, 400 people being present.

M. J. Barry, county president, was toastmaster and called upon a number of distinguished people for addresses. The exercises opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the audience, and closed with "God Save Ireland."

"The Catholic Church and the A. O. H." was the subject of a splendid address by the V. Rev. B. M. O'Boylan of Newark, while Mrs. Margaret Hammond, also of Newark, delighted the audience by her singing. "Plain Mollie, O" (Scanlon) by Mrs. Hammond elicited a recall to which she graciously responded with "Ireland, Agra McGree." Mrs. Hammond's singing and V. Rev. O'Boylan's address which were prominent parts of the program, were both highly complimented.

CLIMAX TO ROMANCE.

Wedding of J. Willis Moore and Miss Clara Zeller Took Place Monday Evening, Rev. Arthur E. Johnson Officiating—Bride and Groom Will Make Home Here.

As forecasted in Monday's Advocate a wedding which was of more than usual interest, took place Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the First Methodist parsonage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. E. Johnson.

The wedding is the culmination of a pretty romance which had its birth some 10 years ago, in the little college town of Granville, the scene changing in the interim to far off climes, environed at one time by the strenuous duties of an army fighting in tropical jungles a half civilized, cruel and relentless foe, and still later by the more peaceful surroundings of an American barracks in Manila.

The contracting parties to the wedding were J. Willis Moore, a young woodworker at the Jewett Car Works and Miss Clara Zeller of St. Louis.

About ten or twelve years ago Clara Zeller, a bright, pretty, fascinating young lady of Devatur, Ill., attended college at the Presbyterian seminary (G. F. C.) at Granville. Her manners and accomplishments soon made her a favorite with all with whom she was associated.

At the seminary a young man named J. Willis Moore, earned his daily bread by attending the engine room and laundry, and it was here Miss Zeller met him. An attachment which gradually ripened into love grew between them and in their happiness all else was forgotten as to the disparity in their social positions, or financial standing.

But a separation hard for both to bear was soon at hand when the young lady graduated and left college. Her parents were dead and to earn a livelihood she became a trained nurse in which capacity she joined the division of the American army operating in Cuba during the Spanish war and later went to the Philippines. Here Dame Rumor played all sorts of pranks with the name of Miss Zeller, always however in the most honorable connections. The most persistent and the one that came to be generally believed, was that she yielded to the wooing of Professor Blessing, assistant superintendent of the Normal school at Manila, and one of the foremost educators of the islands.

Young Moore was in blissful ignorance of these rumors, and a regular correspondence was kept up between him and Miss Zeller, until her return to America last September.

Not until it was announced that his affianced had discarded Prof. Blessing to marry him, did Moore have any idea that there was another aspirant for the young woman's favor.

Arrangements were made for the wedding to take place in Newark and Monday's ceremony was the outcome, both maintaining that the rumor of Prof. Blessing's discomfiture was unfounded, as he did not appear in the role of a suitor at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were the recipients of many useful and handsome presents, and for the present will live at the home of the groom's mother, 99 Hoover street.

Mr. Edwin Moore, a brother of the groom, of Centralia, Illinois, several relatives from Columbus and Granville, attended the wedding.

Friends a number of relatives and friends sat down to a wedding supper after which Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a short wedding journey.

LICKING COUNTY GAS

To be Piped to Newark Within a Short Time—Materials Ordered—Freak Wells in the New Territory—Pipe Laying To Several Towns in Progress.

At the citizens' meeting in the City Council chamber Monday night, Postmaster J. M. Tokes quoted Attorney S. M. Winn, of Zanesville, president of the new gas company, as having said that pipe lines to convey Licking county gas from the Homer field to Newark, had been ordered and pipe would probably be on the ground within 30 days. Mr. Winn, he said, expects to be selling Licking county gas here by October 1.

The following from Utica concerning the new gas field is of interest in this connection:

Utica, O., July 1—The Logan Company has begun laying pipe on a 12 inch line to enhance to a 16 inch and extend it to Fosteria. The Central Ohio company is laying a 10 inch pipe to Columbus. The Ohio Fuel Supply Company is about ready for pipenancy on an 8 inch line to Zanesville and Cambridge. There is a shortage of help, and men are being brought from Marietta and other distant points by the car load.

This gas field is developing some freaks. Of 50 wells sunk the first dry hole has been struck, and it is but 1350 feet from a well that registers 2,500,000 feet a day. Another well 1000 feet distant has struck water at 2250 feet and must be cased to resume the drilling. Water at this depth is a new feature. Utica citizens have a big well at the village limits to supply factories at a nominal price.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Horse Fell and in Summiting Its Head Struck Mr. Charles Dysert at Summit Station, This County, Breaking His Collar Bone.

Summit Station, O., July 1—Mr. Charles Dysert, a teamster employed by Frank Morrison at the Clay Works, had the misfortune to meet with a very painful accident this morning. While driving his horses one of the animals fell into a ditch, and in trying to release them one of the animals in swinging his head struck Mr. Dysert on the head, breaking his collar bone. The injured man was taken to the home of M. G. Deem, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Dysert, and is now resting quite comfortably.

Mr. A. Deem received a telegram this morning from his daughter-in-law in Groveport, notifying him that his son, George, was dangerously ill and for him to come at once. Mr. Deem left on the next car over the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction Railway.

Fifteen Swiss railway and seven lake steamship companies now issue joint ticket serving the purpose of a free pass for two weeks or longer over all lines.

The rate of interest which 15 years ago was 8 and 10 per cent on the best farms in the Mississippi valley, is today as low as 3-1-2 per cent on the banks of Missouri.

THE STEEL PLANT.

Citizens Consider a Proposition From Mr. Taylor.

Large Mass Meeting at Which the Plan of Operation Was Discussed—Board of Trade Has Not Yet Decided the Question—Statement Made by Mr. Taylor.

That interest is taken in the growth and development of Newark was evidenced by the large attendance at the mass meeting in the City Council chamber of the City Hall Monday evening.

Newark has had a steady, healthy growth for years but her development has been more rapid within the past few years, due as all will admit, to the location of new manufacturing industries here or to the enlargement of those already in the city. This fact being so recognized, it is no wonder City Hall was well filled Monday night by people anxious to learn the conditions upon which a new industry, promising to bring from 250 to 350 skilled workmen to the city might be secured.

The meeting was called to order by J. M. Black, president of the Board of Trade, who briefly stated the purpose of the gathering, namely to discuss the proposition presented to the Board by Mr. Taylor of Cambridge, a man who has been successful in establishing plants of a similar nature at Middletown and Marietta, Ohio, and elsewhere. Mr. Taylor at the suggestion of one of the members present, was called upon to outline his proposal to the Board of Trade.

Mr. Taylor stated that he as a representative of an eastern syndicate, the personnel of which he was not at present at liberty to state, offered to locate in Newark a sheet steel mill with an adjoining roof to be followed by a corrugated roofing factory upon certain conditions. The proposed plant, he said, would employ from 250 to 350 men at the start and would have a payroll ranging from $20,000 to $25,000 a month. The output would be at least 2,000 tons valued at three-quarters of a million dollars. The average pay of the men employed in the plant, he said, would be $3.25 a day, the wages ranging from $2 to $20 a day per man from 32 to 35 of the men, he stated, could be paid from $2500 to $5000 a year.

Mr. Taylor said there is a large variety of steel mills but the best of all such mills is a sheet steel plant which is proposed to bring to Newark. The speaker went on to say that he had secured an option on the Forry farm which lies in West Newark near the Loser Wehrle Company's stove foundry, and that it is proposed to spend $5000 in grading this piece of land, laying it off with streets and alleys, reserving 20 acres for the plant, the balance of the property to be divided into 55 lots which were to be put on the market at an average price of $250. The fund growing out of this lot sale is to be placed in the hands of a trustee named by the Board of Trade directors, who in accordance with the terms of the proposed contract is to hand it over to the syndicate as the work on the plant progresses.

The main building he said, would be 240 feet long, 125 feet wide and 28 feet high. Two million bricks and two thousand barrels of cement would be necessary in laying the foundations. The plant, he gave assurance, would be equipped with the latest and most approved machinery including a 1600 horse power engine, a 25 ton traveling crane, electric motors for all shears and all the small machinery. In short it is proposed to equip the factory with the most modern machinery so that it can be operated at a profit when other plants elsewhere are obliged to close.

The question of fuel had been given attention. Representatives of the railroads had been here from Baltimore and Columbus and had agreed to give a satisfactory coal rate. The plant will consume from 20,000 to 30,000 tons of coal a year. Switches would be put in from the Strainsville division of the B. & O. railroad so as to make it unnecessary to carry coal to the B. & O. yards and back to the factory site.

The City Council has been asked to open a street to the proposed addition making a cut under the B. & O. and representation on a gigantic scale in proportion to the height and general size of the huge figure itself. The large eyes are magnifying glasses, through which a fine view of the surrounding country may be had.

The speaker pointed out the fact that vacant lots more remote from the business section of the city than the proposed addition are now selling at a higher figure than it is proposed to ask for these lots and he argued that the location of this plant would so enhance the value of these lots as to make the purchase of a lot a good investment. He figured that as soon as the factory whistle blew for the first time the lots would be worth 25 per cent more than the price each buyer paid for them.

Mr. Taylor said at Marietta where the lots were all sold in nine days, many were taken by people in surrounding towns as an investment.

The location of the factory would mean the construction at once of probably 150 new houses and the wages paid the workmen were large enough to permit them to buy their own houses.

Mr. Taylor explained that the purpose of the meeting was to feel the public pulse; to ascertain whether sufficient encouragement would be given the Board of Trade and himself to undertake the sale of lots. He said the company would agree to operate the plant for a period of at least ten years. All the expenses attending the sale to be paid by the syndicate.

Mr. Taylor said that his associates were practical men in the steel business but that their association at the present time with some of the trust plants made it impossible for him to disclose their identity now. The proposed plant, he wanted it understood, would be an independent plant, and for that reason all the better for the community as it is less liable to be affected by wage controversies. He explained that in times of wage troubles the independent plants are allowed by the Amalgamated Association to continue operation pending a settlement with the trust plants which at times are closed. For reference Mr. Taylor pointed to his record at Middletown where the city was bonded for $65,000 to secure a plant of the same dimensions as the proposed Newark plant and to his work at Marietta where in exactly nine days the required number of lots was sold to locate the industry.

While the proposed plant promised to employ 250 or more men the plans are such that it is altogether probable the factory will be nearly doubled within a year.

He said that the value of the lots at once increased and thousands of dollars were added to the tax duplicate in each case. He pointed out the fact that the steel business had "made" Cambridge and that some of the finest houses in that town are owned and occupied by the steel workers, a number of whom draw wages ranging from $2,500 to $5,000 a year. He added that he could with the same bonus asked in this case bring a woolen mill to Newark that would employ 1200 hands, but that such an industry would be less desirable than a steel plant because of the difference in wages. The steel plant would operate 21 hours every day except Sunday. Columbus and Newark alone would consume the entire output.

Mr. Taylor urged a speedy decision for the reason that it would be necessary to begin work immediately in order to have the plant completed and ready for business for next season. A hundred men would be put to work at the factory he said within 30 days and a big force would be used to grade the land to be divided into lots. All this work would give employment to home labor at good wages.

Mr. Taylor made the foregoing statement partly in his general statement of the proposition and partly in answer to various questions that were asked.

At the conclusion of this part of the program talks were made by Messrs. W. H. Smith, W. S. Weiant, J. M. Ickes, Rees R. Jones, John F. Harts, J. A. Chilcote, Wesley Montgomery, W. F. Seymour, A. C. Dickinson, J. R. Tucker, Eh. Hull, W. D. Fulton, I. M. Phillips, Walter Scott and others. Two of the real estate men, Messrs. Hartshorn and Jones emphatically expressed their opinion that the lots in the proposed addition would be well worth the price asked considering the proximity to the center of the city and the fact that $5000 would be spent in grading and laying out the streets and alleys. These men said that lots farther away and less desirable in many respects are now bringing more than $250 each. The location of the factory with its 250 to 350 hands would create an increased demand for lots.

One gentleman, Mr. W. H. Smith, expressed himself in hearty accord with every project for the advancement of the city's interest and in fact his services on the Board of Trade and activity in the work of locating recent industries here have shown that he is in sympathy with every movement to make Newark grow and prosper, but Mr. Smith said it occurred to him that in this case Newark might be paying too much for this industry. He wanted it clearly understood that he was in favor of any new plant that would help make the city grow, but he had figured it out that the syndicate would make something like $50,000 besides getting 20 acres of land for the factory site by carrying the deal through. He said that while he wanted to see the steel plant come to town he also wanted to get it as cheaply as possible. The Jewett Car Works now employing over 300 men had cost the people something like $8,000. He wondered if the steel plant could be secured at a price less than $50,000. Mr. Smith realized that the property in the proposed addition would enhance in value but why could not the Board of Trade undertake some such work itself and use the profit on such a deal in locating two or three instead of one factory?

He stated that as a member of the Board of Trade directors he knew that propositions are turned down every few weeks simply because of lack of funds to carry them through.

Some remarks were made by other gentlemen regarding the lot sale for the location of the Heisey plant pointing out that said lots did not all increase in value after the plant was established, but in reply to this it was argued that failure for certain lots to increase in value was due to the failure of the men having the deal in hand to properly grade the entire addition so as to make it desirable property. Another man ventured the suggestion that not a man who bought a lot in the Heisey addition would agree to take his money back and allow the factory to leave the city, hence it must be a good investment. What was true of the Heisey plant would be more than proved by the proposed industry in the west end.

After considering the matter at length Mr. Dickinson suggested a rising vote to indicate the sentiment of the citizens and about four-fifths of those present voted to approve of the effort to locate the new plant.

At the adjournment of the citizens' meeting the Board of Trade directors went into executive session and discussed the measure. No definite conclusion was reached. The project will be considered for a day or two when the Board will take it up and decide it one way or the other.

SUICIDE

Of a Well Known Muskingum County Farmer—Martin Fountain Drowned in a Water Trough.

Zanesville, O., June 1.—Martin Fountain was found dead in a watering trough on his farm north of White Cottage, Monday afternoon.

Mr. Fountain, who was aged 70 years, had been in poor health. It is thought that this caused him to take his life.

The last seen of him was at breakfast Monday morning when he seemed in his usual spirits. When he did not put in an appearance at noon search was made for him and he was found, by his son-in-law, Jas. Rambo. He was lying face downward in the trough and there is no doubt but that the case is one of suicide.

Mr. Fountain was an estimable man and was well known throughout the county. He was the father of Marion Fountain, who but a short time ago was killed by falling from a barn at Mt. Perry. He is survived by a wife and six children.

J. K. WISE DEAD

WAS AFFLICTED WITH PARALYSIS A FEW DAYS.

The End Came Monday Night at the Wise Home on Granville Road. Funeral Wednesday.

J. K. Wise the well known agricultural implement dealer, died at 3:30 o'clock Monday evening at his home on the Granville road, as a result of a stroke of paralysis, sustained last Friday morning.

Mr. Wise had been complaining of severe headache and a peculiar creeping sensation in his legs, some time before last Friday but otherwise seemed to be in his usual health.

The stroke of Friday morning affected one side, the entire head and rendered Mr. Wise speechless. He rallied until Sunday when he was taken worse, and continued to grow weaker until his death.

Besides a widow the deceased leaves three children, Mrs. Chas. Hurbaugh, John and William Wise, of this city.

Three sisters, Mrs. Lodema Keiner, Mrs. Mary Applegate of Lucas, Ohio, Mrs. Naomi Caster of Lakeville, Ohio, two brothers, Edward of Martinsburg, Jackson of Lucas, and one half brother, John Orwig, of near Lucas, also survive.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

AFTER 38 YEARS

Captain Grove Former Lancaster Man, is Relieved of a Large Bullet in His Head.

Lancaster, O., July 1.—On the third day of August, 1864, Capt. Lemuel Grove, who is now a resident of Onarga, Ill., fell on the battlefield at the siege of Atlanta, with an ounce and a half bullet lodged in his head, just between the eyes and back of the bridge of the nose, says the Eagle. Being unconscious and showing no signs of life, he was left on the field for dead. While apparently unconscious he was still in possession of his mind, and realized a good deal of what was going on around him. Finally he was discovered and taken to the field hospital, and in the end recovered from the injury, although it has annoyed him from time to time and for the past two or three years has been the cause of pain and suffering. About a year ago he had the bullet located with the X-ray and on Saturday last at the Wesley hospital in Chicago, the bullet was successfully removed through the right nostril. The surgeons considered it a very critical operation, and were somewhat loath to undertake it, but Mr. Grove insisted that it should be done, and also declined an anesthetic to relieve the pain attendant upon the operation. The bullet is a very formidable looking messenger of death, being 1 3/8 inches in length, 1-2 inch thick, and weighing 1 1/2 ounces. Mr. Grove is highly pleased with the success of the operation and feels that his lease of life has been greatly prolonged.

Captain Grove formerly lived at North Berne, this county, where he married a daughter of the late Samuel Jackson, and is well known to many of the older residents of the county. He was a member of the 46th O V I, and has been sheriff of Iroquois county, Ill. his present home

GRANVILLE

Almost a Cloudburst Monday—Prisoners of War to Meet in Granville Next June—Notes.

Granville, O., July 1.—One of the heaviest downpours of rain that ever visited this section occurred on Monday morning about 1:30 o'clock. The rain which came down in sheets, was accompanied by loud flashes of lightning and loud peals of thunder. So great was the rain fall that the streets were flooded in a few minutes, and the roadbed of the Newark and Granville Electric railway for a distance of a mile east of Granville was under water, and big lakes were formed in the low lands. The storm was more in the nature of a cloudburst than anything else, and the oldest inhabitants say they never saw so much rain fall in the same length of time. The streams in the vicinity of Granville were higher on Monday afternoon than they have been for years. The waters of the Raccoon overflowing their banks and flooded the Athletic Park and all the low lands. During the storm the lightning struck the old flour mill belonging to the Sinner, just east of the village, tearing off a portion of the shingle roof and also some of the weatherboarding. Andrew Burchett, a colored man, who happened to be in the building at the time, was nearly frightened to death, and says he thought the entire structure was about to collapse.

Mrs. Anna Henry and little daughter, Clara, of Columbus, are visiting friends in the village for a few days.

At the last reunion of the ex-prisoners of the war of the Rebellion, held in Marion, O., it was decided to hold the next reunion in Granville in June of 1903, the date to be determined on later. Thomas Hayes of Granville was elected Secretary of the Association. Granville is to be congratulated on securing the next reunion of these old veterans, many of whom endured many hardships and great privation in the prisons of the South, and when the time comes for holding the reunion the people of Granville should give the boys a rousing reception.

Mrs. M. L. Harris of Columbus will spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Owen.

Mrs. Thomas Williams of Dayton, who has been visiting friends here during the past two weeks, has returned home.

At the meeting of Myrtle Lodge of Odd Fellows held on Monday evening there was a good attendance of the members, but only routine business was transacted.

Mr. Thomas Evans, who resides in the Sharon Valley, east of this place, has been suffering with appendicitis for some time, and his condition finally became such that it was deemed necessary to have an operation. Conductor J. V. Gallagher of the was taken to the hospital in Newark on Monday of this week, where he was successfully operated on by Dr. Mitchell, and at this writing he is doing nicely and the prospects are that he will make a rapid recovery.

Mrs. J. H. Peterson, who has been visiting relatives here and north of town for some days, returned home on Tuesday morning, after having had a very pleasant visit. She resides in Columbus.

He fell from a cut of cars and received a broken collar-bone which protruded through the flesh, shoulder dislocated and bone broken just below the joint, and a broken wrist. INSTANTLY KILLED

Young B. & O. Fireman Elmer Forsythe Who Lived in Newark, Met a Horrible Death Tuesday Morning on the Lake Erie Division—How Accident Happened.

Mt Vernon, O., July 1—Elmer Forsythe, a young unmarried man, aged 26 years, whose parents' home is at Hunt's Station, and who was a fireman on the B. & O. railroad, running between Newark and Chicago Junction, was instantly killed near this town about 9:25 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Forsythe left Newark this morning on train No. 99 with Engineer Stephen Davis of this place, and Conductor Bash in charge of the train. Upon arriving at Mt. Vernon it was necessary to do some switching and while thus engaged Forsythe went out on the pilot of the engine, where he lost his balance and fell under the wheels. Engineer Davis missed in a minute and looking out of the cab window, was horrified to see him under the engine. He immediately reversed the engine, bringing it to a stop.

It was then found that Forsythe was dead, having been instantly killed. Both legs were cut off, as was the right arm at the wrist. The left arm was broken and his head badly mashed. The remains were picked up and turned over to the undertaker, who prepared them for interment, and they will be sent to his home at Hunt's Station for interment. The deceased was well known in Newark, and boarded at the Central House in that city. He was a young man who was well liked by all who knew him.

FOR NERVOUS FOLKS.

Systematic Rest, Massage and Proper Diet Will Work Wonders.

Schule, writing on mental diseases, asks, "Is our civilization to blame for this neurotic condition?" and the answer is in the affirmative. How can nutrition prosper in the body where malnutrition holds full sway? And how can people be happy and healthy when worry dominates their lives? For in this human being the lower officers of the nervous hierarchy draw their very breath at the bidding of the higher powers, and the relation is verily reciprocal, for to keep the brain healthy the unconscious nervous functions must be kept in good shape, proper activities being attempted with wisely arranged periods of repose.

Just as soon as one notices the approach of nervous irritability systematic nerve rest will shorten an attack, and by rest I mean to have the patient go to bed and have massage. The amount of exercise undergone in a good scientific massage is equal to a walk of two or three miles a day, and it goes without saying that such passive exercise should increase the appetite, and the food ingested and enjoyed will be digested and assimilated. I use the word "enjoy" deliberately, because there are some nervous invalids who cannot enjoy their food unless in solitude. In addition to the massage I would recommend salt rubs, which are very easy to give. Have a saturated solution of common table salt. Rub the body briskly, especially from the spine outward toward the sides of the body and as soon as the skin is well reddened wash off with moderately cool water, and the chances are all in favor of restful condition. In case persons suffer from cold feet at night I would advise the bathing of the feet in cold water before going to bed and having a hot water bag always at hand.

Lettuce, celery, spinach, onions, are all vegetables especially valuable to a person of nervous temperament, and milk hot or cold is invaluable.—Pittsburg.

The Little White Sun.

The sky had a gray, gray face,
The touch of the mist was as chill,
The earth was an eerie place,
For the wind moaned over the hill.
But the brown earth laughed, and the sky turned blue
When the little white sun came peeping through.

The wet leaves saw it and smiled,
The glad birds gave it a song—
A cry from the heart, gleeful, wild,
And the echoes laugh it along.
And the wind and I went whistling, too,
When the little white sun came peeping through.

So welcome the chill of rain
And the world in its dreary guise—
To have it over again.
That moment of sweet surprise,
When the brown earth laughs and the sky turns blue
As the little white sun comes peeping through.

Novelty in Fireworks.

Among the new fireworks for the glorious Fourth a clever 1902 piece is the "loop the loop," says the Philadelphia Times. This looks like a rolling hoop with a little block of wood attached to its inner rim. A spark transforms the hoop into a blazing circle and the block of wood into a car, which races round and round inside the circle till all its power is gone, throwing off as it goes gaudy showers of red, white and blue sparks. The "loop the loop" is fastened against a fence or a post after the manner of the pinwheel, of which it is a variation.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

GENERAL AND LOCAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

Strike of Machinists at Garrett Possible—More Double Tracking—Fast Long Distance Run.

The report has again started that the Vanderbilts are attempting to build a more direct route into Pittsburgh from the Middle West. In this connection it is said that the proposed railroad of C. W. French to connect Youngstown and Akron will form the connecting link by means of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Northern Ohio and thence to the Nickel Plate.

As told in the Dispatch a month ago when Mr. French came here to organize his company, it was the object of the promoters of the air line between Youngstown and Akron to ultimately sell out to the Vanderbilts. When Mr. French was here he held a long conference with Colonel J. M. Schoonmaker, Vice President of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, relative to the proposed line. The Dispatch told at that time that work on the line would be pushed with all possible speed and that in all probability the new railroad would be taken over by the Vanderbilts. This, however is to come.—Pittsburg Dispatch, July 1

With the completion of the Union Terminal in Washington and the double-tracking of the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad, it is said the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will run through trains from Washington and Baltimore to the Southern winter resorts. The plan will also embrace a sleeper or sleepers from Pittsburgh to the South via the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac. The Baltimore & Ohio has lost much business owing to its failure to run through trains to the South.

Announcement has just been made of the double-tracking of the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac. The line runs from Potomac to Richmond, a distance of 115 miles, and is the natural outlet for much of the traffic that goes from the North Atlantic States to the important centers of the South. The road is owned jointly by the Pennsylvania, Seaboard & Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio and the Southern railroad.—Today's Pittsburgh Dispatch.

New York, July 1.—Superintendent A. A. Harrington of the Mohawk division of the New York Central railroad last night announced that the Twentieth Century Limited broke the world's record for long-distance running on its trip from Albany to Syracuse. It made the 148 miles between the two cities in 145 minutes, including a stop at Utica and several slow-downs. This fast trip was made necessary by the train being delayed at West Albany.

Big Sum for Railroad.

New York, July 1.—The government has granted 12,000 pounds to the English railroad, says a Salvador City, Salvador, dispatch to the Herald. The sanitary condition of this city is excellent. All of the patients who were in the old hospital have been transferred to the new hospital, which was constructed with a modern equipment.

Strike is Possible.

Garrett, Ind. July 1.—Business Agent Ireland of the Machinists' Union, held a special meeting here last night with Tamarack Lodge No. 39, and unless the present piece work system, which is to go into effect in the B. & O. shops here, is abolished, a strike will be ordered which will affect about 150 machinists. The men are asking for an hourly rate of 30 cents and time and one half for overtime and abolition of the piece work, while the present rate is from 26 to 28 cents per hour, time and a quarter for overtime and all piece work. The dissatisfaction is caused by the piece work prices being so low. The men are unable to make the rate now paid time men.

Philip Dupre, of West Fifth street, who has been employed at the Ohio Brass Works, has accepted the position of driver at E. Chaffin's grocery store and has entered upon his work. Mr. Dupre fills the place of Stewart Lake, who resigned some time ago, and went to Newark, where he is connected with the B. & O. railroad.—Mansfield News.

TRUSTEE—Geo. A. Ball has been reappointed a trustee of Memorial building for seven years by Judge Seward.

Western Union Will Refuse.

Philadelphia, July 1—It is understood that the Pennsylvania railroad has made an offer to purchase the 1500 miles of poles and 25,000 miles of wire belonging to the Western Union Telegraph company occupying its territory. These poles are valued by the Western Union at $300 a mile and the wire at $50 a mile for copper and $30 a mile for iron.

The upset figure offered by the Pennsylvania railroad, it is said, is $50 a mile for poles and $10 a mile for wire. Claim is made that as both poles and wire are old, they are of considerably less value than actual construction prices.

It is hardly probable that the Western Union will accept these figures. An official of the company said that the even considering the patsyatemfwypaa price offered was entirely too low even considering the loss to the company entailed by the removal of both poles and wires. That some action would be taken by the Western Union to establish before the courts its right to still maintain a great portion of these wires is now well assured and promises to be an interesting matter of litigation.

THE NEW CUBAN ARMY

Composed of Rural Guards and the Artillery Corps.

BOTH WELL DRESSED AND ARMED

Former Body, Which Was Trained by Captain Slocum of the United States Army, Numbers 1,500 Men and the Latter 200—General Gomez to Be Commander in Chief.

The army of Cuba as a republic is a very different one from that of Cuba as a Spanish colony, writes Dorothy Stanhope, the Havana correspondent of the New York Times, under the date of June 10. The neat looking soldier, of the rural guards (the cavalry) and the smart looking member of the cuerpo de artilleria (artillery corps) remind one but little of the Cuban soldiers that I saw in the winter of 1898-99. What a motley assemblage it was! Men of all ages, from the gray bearded veteran of several wars to the young boy scarcely out of knee breeches, ragged, many of them, and carrying the most varied collection of weapons it has ever been my fortune to see. In contrast to these are the well dressed, armed and disciplined artillerymen and equally well appearing rural guards of today, who marched in the procession at the inauguration of the republic.

The rural guards, which constitute the cavalry arm, were originally organized as suburban police and are still serving in that capacity in the country and small towns from Maysi to San Antonio. At present they number 1,500 men, but it is expected that the Cuban congress will enact a law authorizing an increase of a thousand more. They were trained by Captain Slocum of the United States cavalry. The uniform is khaki with yellow pipings, leather leggings and campaign hat. The officers wear yellow shoulder straps. The privates are paid $42 American money a month. They are expected to feed and clothe themselves. A first lieutenant receives $100, a second $85, a captain $125, captain and adjutant $150 and a major $200.

Only within the last few months have the rural guards been considered a part of the army. The body that was organized as the Cuban army is the artillery arm, known as the "cuerpo de artilleria." The cuerpo de artilleria was organized in October, 1901. Captain Dwight E. Aultman of the artillery corps was selected by the military governor as the commanding officer, and he in turn chose six noncommissioned American officers from the artillery companies in the Havana garrison to aid him in the work.

No sooner was the notice published in the newspapers that a military force was to be formed than men from all parts of the island signified their intention to enlist. Young men from all walks of life, some raised in luxury and others at the plow, presented themselves for enlistment. The two companies constituting the 150 men of the corps were white, much to the dissatisfaction of the black race, who at once sent a delegation to General Wood to tell him that the colored race wished to be included in the new army, it having always fought in Cuba's cause. Then General Wood issued another order for the enlistment of a company of fifty colored men.

The three companies have been stationed together in Cabana fortress, where there are quarters for several thousand soldiers and where there were a large number during Spanish times. The colored company has now gone to Columbia barracks, where it is guarding property.

General Alejandro Rodriguez is commander in chief of the Cuban army, both artillery and rural guards, with rank of brigadier general. He is a veteran of several wars and was at one time an American citizen. He has been very prominent in Havana affairs, having been mayor of the city as late as 1900. While no fault is to be found with his leadership, General Maximo Gomez is to be made chief, with rank of major general, while General Rodriguez remains with the rural guards, and General Castillo, so it is rumored, becomes chief of the artillery. General Gomez wields a very great influence over the Cuban people through the length and breadth of the island. Just now this consideration is a powerful one, for the strongest leaders are needed.

Change in President's Signature.

Stress of business and the dearth of time will lead to a change in President Roosevelt's signature, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. He has always been accustomed to write out his first name in full, but he finds that it will save him about 50 per cent of time and trouble to make it simply T. Roosevelt. Where a man has to sign his name about one thousand times a day it makes a big difference. There is a man in the office of the auditor for the postoffice department at Washington who, it is said, owes his appointment largely to the fact that his signature contains but five letters. He is Second Deputy Auditor N. Chew. He does little but sign his name, and he does that for about eight hours a day steadily.

Novelty For the Summer Girl.

Here is a new variety of the shirt waist set. There are three buttons, with a larger disk for a belt pin. They are flat and round, in gold or silver plated, and in the center of each button is an initial. It is a further marking of the summer girl for identification, says the New York Times. She may have the initial of her first or last name upon the buttons, as she pleases. The set costs $1.50.

TOLEDO WOMAN

BADLY BITTEN BY A FEROCIOUS
MAD DOGAfter a Fierce Fight, Immersed Her
Arm in Turpentine and Refused a Physician's Aid.

Toledo, O., July 1.—Mrs. S. Shiffar of No. 46 Jarvis street, had a terrible battle yesterday with a mad dog, which attacked her as she entered the kitchen. Her hand and arm were badly lacerated by the fangs of the brute, but she refused to call in a physician to have the wounds cauterized as a precaution against hydrophobia. Instead she immersed her arm up to the elbow in a gallon of turpentine and kept it there for an hour, then bound the wounds up and proceeded with her household duties. The woman says that turpentine is an old German remedy for mad dog bites, and that she never knew it to fail when promptly applied.

The dog belonged to the family and had been acting strangely for a few days, and when Mrs. Shiffar entered the kitchen the dog instantly sprang at her. Before she could get out of its way it had buried its fangs in her wrist. It was frothing at the mouth and its eyes were bloodshot.

After a struggle Mrs. Shiffar released her hand and, grabbing a potato masher, began belaboring the dog, which was now venting its rage by tearing her dress into ribbons. She knocked the dog senseless for a few moments and took advantage of this by pushing her two children out of the window, with the injunction to run for their lives. By this time the dog came at her again and the fight was renewed, and she was bitten in the forehead twice. She stunned the dog and battered its brains out with the potato masher. Just as she was administering the last licka Patrolman Smith rushed in and sent two bullets into the brute's head.

Physicians are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the turpentine treatment.

BROTHER

That Resembled Him Shifted Seats
With Prisoner, Who Coolly Walked Out.

Paducah, Ky., July 1.—While talking with his brother, whom he greatly resembles, Joe Toom escaped from custody here yesterday. Joe was under indictment by the grand jury at Mayfield, charged with false swearing, and had been taken into Court here by Constable James Burnett to give bond for his appearance before the Circuit Court at that place. While waiting for the Judge to appear, his brother came in, and the two engaged in an animated conversation. Joe finally got up and walked up and down, and his brother shifted to his seat. Joe then took his brother's seat, and after talking a few moments more got up and left the court room.

The chagrined Constable, when he discovered his mistake, made a diligent hunt for his prisoner, but has up to a late hour been unable to find him.

Rogers to Blame.

The Philadelphia Record has the following to say about the failure of the Philadelphia National League club to secure Lajoie, after having won the case in the courts:

"You can't bluff me, John," was one of A. J. Reach's remarks to John I. Rogers during the heated run-in before the reporters at the grounds last Thursday, and if Reach backs up his statement there may be something doing in the Philadelphia baseball club that will interest the public, the open rupture between the partners in the ownership of the Phillies being caused by the failure of the club which means John I. Rogers, to secure Lajoie. Reach recognized the importance of securing the great player at any cost and made no complaint when a large sum of money was expended in legal fees fighting the case in court. When the club won the fight he looked on Lajoie as secured for the Phillies, and even the public concluded that it was all over when "Larry" took his clothes away from the Athletic grounds and went over to Broad and Huntington streets to practice. But Rogers allowed a few hundred dollars to stand in the way of securing a man for whose services he had already spent thousands in court, and, as a result, Philadelphia baseball patrons will see the greatest ball player of the age no more. Rogers succeeded in driving Lajoie off the Athletic team, but failed to sign him for the Phillies, so the local public is the loser. Reach says he has become tired of having his thrown up to him by his friends every where he goes and that is the reason he wants the blame placed where it belongs.

All Round Championship.

Seven powerful young men have entered for the all around championship, the blue ribbon event of athletics, which will be held on July 4 under the auspices of the Greater New York Fr-

CAPTAIN BRYANT DEAD.

Captain Samuel Bryant of Louisville, Ky., one of the best known turfmen in the country, died Saturday night, after a long illness of dropsy. He was carried on a couch to witness the running of the American Derby, just a week before his death, and after the race said that he was then ready to die. He was 70 years of age.

Sporting Notes.

Cy Young Boston's premier twirler, leads the American league pitchers by a good margin having won 16 games and lost 3. Callahan of Chicago, is second with 9 won and 2 lost.

Lajoie, Hickman and Bradley touched Jack Harper for successive home runs in the sixth inning of the first game at St. Louis, Monday. The second game resulted in a 15 inning tie.

Charles W. Miller's fast pacer Joan R. Gentry, Jr., is entered in the 2:40 pace, for a purse of $500, at Mansfield this week.

College Rowing Jubilee.

There is a plan on foot to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the first Harvard-Yale boat race, which was held on Lake Winnepesaukee Aug. 3, 1852. It will be a reunion of the survivors of the crews of this first intercollegiate boat race in America, and the survivors of all subsequent college crews will also be invited to attend the reunion.

The reunion will be held in New York in October, as it is thought impracticable to hold such a meeting on the anniversary day in August. The committee of arrangements is Joseph M. Brown, Harvard '53, and James M. Whitin, Yale '53. The committee says in its circular letter:

"That regatta on Lake Winnepesaukee became in a way unforeseen the starting point of the present wide and varied development of intercollegiate competition, which now includes transatlantic with domestic rivalry. This in-apports that are materially aiding the Smoketown contingent in the fight for pennant No. 2, and the first two named have attained prominence entitling them to leading rank. One of the features of Tannehill's work is his aptitude for hitting the ball. Pitchers are notoriously poor batsmen, but the stalwart Jesse frequently lands on the leather for safe ones.

The Pirates' pitching department is almost identical with that of last year, and Captain-Manager Fred Clarke is to be complimented for holding his men together during the days when the American league offered all sorts of tempting inducements to good National players.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 25c. At Hall's drug store.

Is the Work the British Doctors are Doing at 100 W. Main st., by Giving Their Services Free of Charge and thus Demonstrating Their Ability to Cure Many Maladies that are Called Incurable.

A staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute have, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their care in this country, established a permanent branch of the Institute in this city, Flat 2 Ayalon Flats, first floor, (west end entrance) 100 West Main street.

These eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free for three months (medicines excepted) to all invalids who call on them for treatment between now and July 14th. These services consist not only of consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any services rendered for three months to all who call before July 14th.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities, and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made, and, if incurable, you are frankly and kindly told so; also advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also varicocele, rupture, goitre, cancer, and all diseases of the rectum, are positively cured by their new treatment.

The chief associate surgeon of the Institute is in general charge.

Hours 9 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 1.

Pittsburgh's Pitching Staff.

Jesse Tannehill, one of the ablest pitchers that ever filled a box, is again doing splendid work for the Pittsburgh. The lead in the National race now held by the Pirates is largely due to the telling performances of the twirling staff, and Tannehill seldom fails to deliver the goods.

FORM UNION

And Raise Price of Family Washing From a Dollar to a Dollar and a Quarter.

* Lisbon, O. July 1--The washerwomen of Lisbon have formed a union and raised the price for family washing from $1 to $1.25 per day. Many housewives vow they will do their own work.

The Clam Bake.

Columbus, July 1--The clam bake today of the young men's Democratic Club of Columbus brought Democratic leaders from all parts of the State. John R. McLean did not come but he sent a letter urging the party to unite on "sound doctrines. No expedients or irregular inventions are required." This was looked on as a rap at Tom Johnson who was present and made one of his characteristic speeches for tax reform.

Attempted Suicide.

New York, July 1--Because all hope of a reconciliation with her husband had vanished, Mrs. Selina Taylor, attempted to commit suicide this morning by jumping from the third story of her home. Hospital physicians say she will die. She has been separated for several weeks from her husband, who was jealous of the attentions of another man. Mrs. Taylor said that she had relatives living in Chicago, but that she had just arrived from Boston, where her husband was the chef in some hotel.

insult me could hardly have been accepted.

"I very clearly indicated what I intended to do and nobody had any right to be surprised at what happened. The practice of assailing officers of the Government is not habitual with me and I never have anything to say against them except when I feel the facts fully justify it. I recognize the right of any personal or political friend of the person whose conduct is called in question to defend him, but I do not recognize the right of any Senator to insult a colleague in making a defense of his personal or political friend. I was adverse to personal encounters, as any man ought to be, but my friends will hardly expect me to allow myself to be insulted. I tried my utmost to avoid the necessity for the affair, both while the Senate was in session and after it adjourned, and only proceeded to the extreme after flat refusal to withdraw the offensive language."

The fact remains, however, that Beveridge has not retracted what he said in Senate, which so ruffled Bailey's "honor." There has been much discussion as to what the outcome of Bailey's assault on Beveridge may be. The prevailing opinion is that it will be hushed up and no official notice taken of it.

Among the many bills passed was one giving Rear Admiral Schley the pay and allowance of a Rear Admiral on the active list of the navy.

A bill was passed for the relief of settlers on public lands granted in aid of the construction of wagon roads.

WILL NOT APOLOGIZE.

Washington, July 1--It now appears that Senator Bailey did not wish to have a personal encounter in the Senate, but waited for Beveridge to go outside where they could have it out. Mr. Beveridge did not move out quickly enough to suit and so Mr. Bailey handed him one in the Senate room. Bailey says today that he does not intend to apologize for his conduct. He would rather have the Senate expell him. He declares: "If I had so far forgotten myself as to strike Mr. Beveridge in open Senate, I would submit to the penalty, but the Senate was not in session."
